

EY ANNOUNCES KEVIN NOLAN AS ENTREPRENEUR OF THE YEAR 2016 AWARD FINALIST

NASHVILLE, TN – June 24, 2016 – EY has announced Kevin Nolan, founder & CEO of Nolan Transportation Group (NTG), as an award recipient of the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year Award in the Southeast. Nolan and other leading entrepreneurs were recognized at a black-tie gala on June 23 at the Country Music Hall of Fame in Nashville, TN.

“I am empowered to be included amongst this group of entrepreneurs. It’s an amazing accomplishment for NTG and the work our team has put in to service our customers,” said Nolan. “I’m fortunate to have a team that carries the same entrepreneurial spirit and drive that I do.”

The Entrepreneur Of The Year Finalist Award recognizes entrepreneurs who “demonstrate excellence and extraordinary success in such areas as innovation, financial performance, and personal commitment to their businesses and communities,” according to EY.

This group of leading entrepreneurs was selected by an independent judging panel made up of previous award recipients, leading CEOs and other regional business leaders. Nolan was recognized as a finalist in the Services category for his tremendous success since founding NTG in 2005, a third-party logistics company operating nationwide.

Kevin Nolan founded Nolan Transportation Group in 2005 with a small office, a box of cash, and two employees. NTG was built on a service promise and Kevin’s open communication style quickly earned the trust of both carriers and shippers. After five years in operation, NTG opened additional offices and began to take off, adding nine more offices between 2011 and 2016. Today, NTG has 12 offices nationwide and employs over 500 people from all backgrounds. In 2015, NTG was recognized on the Inc. 5000 list as one of the fastest-growing companies in America.
